

From Jordan's banks unto the sea,
Will swell the chorus, loud and long, Against that "— monopoly."
The horny-handed shepherd swain, Oppressed by bonded stratagem, Will curse that corporation line 'Twixt Jaffa and Jerusalem.

There is a man who works at the shoe factory that eats cumber as a medicine. When he feels indisposed he sends out and gets a cucumber or so and they will cheer him up so he can resume work at once. Thus it is said.
Frank A. Eastman, of Paris Hill, while at work in the Sled Factory Friday, got the fingers of his left hand into a planing machine. Dr. Evans of this village dressed the hand and removed part of two fingers. The patient is doing well.
Vinegar is an antidote for aqua ammonia. When you accidentally swallow some of the latter you'll wish you'd remembered about the vinegar. We know whereof we speak, as we've tried it. Vinegar kills ammonia. Remember it.
The Ballard Bros. of Auburn have contracted to build the Association Block. They are to have it done by January 1st, '83. Their contract calls for $10,500. The material will be furnished by C. L. Hathaway of this place.
Kit Frost, Burnell, Bartlett and others thought it would be fun to jump into the "Little Jordan" that rolls behind the shoe factory with their clothes on. They did it Saturday afternoon and experienced no bad results even if their clothes did stick to 'em when they returned to work.
John F. Allen, of boot and shoe fame, is taking a vacation. The first one for over three years. He started Friday week ago, for Auburn, Portland, Old Orchard, Exeter, N. H. and Boston.
He is to stop at these places and do the mountains before he returns. Mr. Elder has charge in the store during his absence.
"There I'd rather lost any one of my other companions than to have lost you," said the Captain of bloodless battles, as he accidentally smashed his whiskey jug when entering Noyes' grocery store for matches Saturday night. A whiskey weeping carpet bag told the whole story. The party at the Lake, probably held services Sunday minus the whiskey.
The two horses with the forward wheels of a hay cart, belonging to Benj. Tucker, became frightened while at the depot Monday and started across lots for Main Street. Just as the team arrived opposite the Mason Bros. store they knocked down and run over Miss Fannie Crooker, who was crossing the street. Miss C. was badly bruised and sustained a bad wound in the forehead.
Dr. Turner was summoned and found that no bones were broken, and it is expected that she will be out in a short time. It was a very narrow escape from a fatal accident.

Without doubt the largest string of bass ever caught in the Lake, at one time, was the string captured by Geo.
Horne Tuesday afternoon in the shower. They were twenty in number and weighed twenty-five pounds.

Tuesday's shower was a Godsend.
Not only to those who have acres of parched and withering crops but to many a good housewife, who for scarcely of water have deferred washing for many days. On Pleasant Street where water has been at a premium for several weeks, every pail, tub, bucket, etc., that could be got at, was brought into use and put where it would catch the most of the precious water as it came from the house eaves.
We expect shortly to appear in a clean shirt.
J. C. Gerry, formerly of A. M. Gerry & Co., Druggists, So. Paris, and late of Noyes' Drug Store, Norway, is about to open a drug store at Fryeburg village. Mr. Gerry is a registered druggist, and one of the most skillful compounders of prescriptions. He is familiar with all branches of the drug and apothecary business, and will keep a first class store. We can heartily commend him to the people of Fryeburg and vicinity, not only as a man familiar with his business, but as an honest, temperate and reliable citizen.
Fryeburg is fortunate in having this enterprising young man becoming a member of its business community.— Democrat.
Joe Crocker at the Falls lost his large black dog recently. It is supposed to have passed in its checks last Friday. It died by violence—two and a half rods or less from the muzzle of a seven shooter. In whose hand rested that instrument of death at the moment of shooting, and when the spirit of the faithful canine started on its flight to its happy hunting ground, while its earthly temple was writhing in agony and covered in dust this depoulted saith not. Some says that David, whose surname is Sanborn was present and witnessed the death of the dog. Others say he had a hand on the revolver and caused his death by being a good marksman and hitting his mark.
Be that as it may, Crocker had Deputy Sheriff Blake visit and arrest Sanborn for dog slaughter. The day of trial was marked for Saturday next. On Tuesday the case was quashed by the plaintiff's attorney, C. E. Holt, who withdrew the charge of criminal complicity on the part of Sanborn. The matter is now understood to be justifiable homicide, in which only a vicious dog was killed.
As our reporter was traveling on one of those ninety-nine in the shade days, he came to the Pine Grove House at South Waterford. The external appearance induced him to stop, as many of that had the appearance of shade was attractive on that day. On entering the house he was met by the gentlemanly landlord, Frank Stearns, who informed him that the house was full of guests. Mr. Stearns is soon to add more rooms to his cottages and pavilion to accommodate others who wish to receive the benefit of that desirable location. The register showed the names of guests mostly from the cities. Among them he noticed Dr.
McHaffon, of N. Y.; G. W. Millett, Boston; Sallie T. Blake, Jersey City; Mrs. Ripley and daughter, N. Y.; John Sand and wife, Lebanon, Conn.; Julia Challis, Chelsea. There are all the facilities for amusements such as angling, boating, bathing, swimming, climbing, singing, dancing, eating and drinking and enjoying life generally.
We were invited to dine with the guests, and found the dinner was such as might tempt the appetite of the most fastidious epicure. We left satisfied that although somewhat secluded, it was a good resort.

Mrs. G. Charles and son, Master Frankie, of Lowell, Mass., who are visiting friends in this village, are now the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Barrows.
John B. Hazen's new dwelling is progressing finely. We heard a lady of culture say the other day, that the house was the best planned of any one in Norway.
A runaway put the neighborhood into great excitement Sunday night.
Three boys were dumped from a wagon, and the horse left across lots, over bankings and fences for parts unknown to your reporter.
T. G. Stuart has greatly improved the surroundings of his dwelling by setting out fir trees on the west side of his house. The hot dry weather of late has cast a slight tinge of olive green through their branches but the shower Tuesday afternoon will bring out all their original beauty, no doubt.
North Norway.
Now that having is over, picking blueberries seems to be the fashion.
Wagon-loads of both sexes pass every day on their way to blueberry fields.
A party from Noble's Corner, borrying in Waterford, last week were very much frightened by some young fellows camping in the woods, dressed in women's garments, flourishing red bandannas, jabbering unintelligible jargon, and peeping from behind trees and stumps. It must have been a sight worthy of Nas's pencil. Much credit is due to "Phronie" and "Ira" who by giving the fellows a little plain English, saved their party from a regular stampede.
Mr. Elmer Chapin from Boston, has been stopping at Rollin Towne's the past week.

grass on Edwin Jordan's farm in Albany.
Mrs. S. J. Gould of Belmont, N. H., has lately been visiting her sister, Mrs.
J. J. Jenkins.
Miss Ada French of Boston, is visiting her parents this month.

South Paris.
W. V. Daggett, of Boston, is stopping at the Andrews House.
Notwithstanding the oppressive heat last Sabbath, those who attended the Congregational church and listened to the eloquent and forcible sermon delivered by the Rev. E. E. Bacon, felt amply repaid for their exertion. Mr.
B. has many friends in So. Paris, and will always receive a warm welcome here.
Sunday last the mercury was 105° in the shade.
Mr. McKenney has gone to Boston, and we understand that he will take his family soon.
L. S. Billings has been having his stable roof painted with the fire proof roofing paint.
Last Friday Geo. Robertson of this place met with a serious accident.
His left hand accidentally came in contact with a circular saw, thereby losing his thumb and injuring his first finger. Drs. Rounds and Holden dressed the wound.
Mrs. Bowles and daughter of New York city, and Miss Stone of Fall River, Mass., are stopping at Harry Stow-ell's.
Saturday fire was again discovered on the roof of L. S. Billings' saw mill, and promptly extinguished. Leander has sent for 250 feet of hose, we understand.
Frank Porter is in town visiting his folks.
W. Z. Brown has gone to Conn.
We understand that he will make the nutmeg state his home for the future.
Last Monday Dr. Rounds horse while standing hitched in front of A.
W. Gerry's drug store became frightened and broke loose, but was captured before doing any damage.
Next Sabbath it is expected that the Rev. Mr. Bartlett from Lewisville, Ill., will fill the pulpit at the Congregational Church.
Elisha Morse, of Minneapolis, was in town this week on a flying visit to his folks.
Master George Wilson, son of G. A.
Wilson Esq., fell from an ice cart Saturday, and injured his leg quite badly.
Monday prominent republicans of this and adjoining towns met at the Andrews house to discuss the situation, and Tuesday the greenback fraternity filled the tables at the same place.

Boston this week.
Miss Georgia Chase returned from the Glen House last week, where she has been spending her vacation.
Some magnificent gems have already been found during the present exploration at Mt. Mica and have been cut by Mr. Reynolds, of Boston. One of them is a magnificent green tourma-line of ten karats weight. It is perfect and the third finest green gem thus far found in the United States. These gems and the rare minerals of Mt. Mica will be sold at auction by the Mt.
Mica Company, at Paris, Me., on Sept.
1st, when the rare treasures of Mt. Mica will be exhibited, together with the private collections of Carter, Hamlin
